Reasons Kids Should Go To Camp

Here is a top the top 10 reason in no particular order.

- 1.) New Christian Community–Children and youth need to experience it, so they know what it feels like, and can reproduce it wherever they go.
- 2.) Unplug From Technology–The pressure kids feel from being plugged in all the time is something we adults don't even fully understand what the lasting effects are going to be. Give the gift of empowering them to unplug themselves from TV, Cell Phones, and the Internet.
- 3.) Connect With Nature–Whether the outdoors is their thing or not, spending a week at camp will teach them to pause and learn to enjoy it, so that they will take care of it for future generations.
- 4.) Growing More Independent–Whether the choice is overnight or day camp, being away from home, practicing making decisions for themselves without parents guiding every move, in a caring environment helps kids blossom in new directions.

5.) Making True Friends–Camp is a place where kids make their very best friends. Camp is designed to bring fun that draws everyone together.

6.) Life Long Skills–There is nowhere else you can try so many new activities and learn so many new skills all in one week. Camp expands every child's abilities.

7.) Develop Healthy Social Skills–The close knit community gives campers opportunities to learn how to cooperate with each other and respect one another.

8.) Strong Role Models–Camp staff make great role models for our campers, and many campers want to grow up to be just like their counselor.

9.) Unstructured Play–While campers are always supervised, they have the opportunity to choose what they want to do during camper's choice time and just be free to play.

10.) Gain Confidence–Camp helps children & youth build self-confidence and self-esteem by removing the kind of academic and athletic competition that shapes their lives at school. Through various opportunities to succeed, camp life is a real boost for young people.
