

Becoming the Beloved Community

An Interactive Seminar on

Preaching, Worship and Mission for Pentecost Season

Tuesday, April 27, 2021, 10 AM to 12 PM

Sermon & Worship Planning for Revised Common Lectionary Year B
For pastors, musicians, and worship and mission teams

Our four seminar leaders—three Elders and one Deacon—are scholars and activists who will help us explore biblical studies, homiletics, worship, and incarnational social action for justice in the season of Pentecost.

How can we move boldly, creatively into Becoming the Beloved Community together?

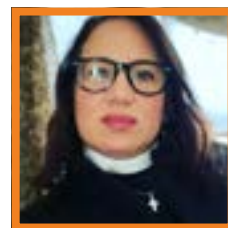

How can we preach, celebrate and live Pentecost not as a day but as a season of Extraordinary Worship during Ordinary Time?

Hear and engage the perspectives of:

The Rev. Dr. Suzanne Wenonah Duchesne: Assistant Professor of Worship and Preaching and Director of Mast Chapel at New Brunswick Theological Seminary, with a PhD in Liturgical Studies and a background in theater and fine arts.

The Rev. Lydia Munoz: Pastor of Swarthmore UMC a sought-after musician and worship leader, and a D.Min. candidate studying Public Theology, with a passion for justice ministries among marginalized and multicultural communities.

The Rev. David W. Brown: Deacon and Pastor of Wharton-Wesley UMC in Philadelphia, where he has led the church in worship and community engagement efforts. Also a recognized leader in marketing and communications, and an Assistant Professor and Diversity advisor at Temple University.

The Rev. Dr. Deborah Appler: Ph.D Professor of Hebrew Bible at Moravian Theological Seminary, with research and publications focused on biblical themes of justice and healthy relationships.
